A black and white photograph showing a group of students walking along a path in front of a building. The building has a large sign that reads "DYER CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL". The students are dressed in mid-20th-century attire, including sweaters, slacks, and a dress. The scene is captured from a low angle, emphasizing the students' movement across the frame.

Learning is often represented by a torch, and our "torch" is Dyer Central. It is from its light that we gain a clearer insight of the responsibilities, opportunities, and experiences that lie before us. To us, it is a bright spotlight which leads us and inspires in us qualities of assuredness. During our busy school schedule, we not only complete our studies, but we also converse with friends and participate in clubs and sports. Each step in our lives is completed with a bit of guiding. Yes, Dyer Central does light the way.

Dyer Central Lights The Way Through The Curriculum

Dyer Central's light shines through its administration and curriculum. Each person, each talent and each course is used to enlighten the knowledge-seeking students. The light may be directed in many ways to guide, inform, and investigate. Counselors use their talents to guide, while teachers use their abilities to inform and instruct. Both persons use some of their light to investigate problems which may cause dimness in understanding.

Many Talents Render . . .

Mr. Don Moriarity, St. John
Township Trustee

Mr. Fred Jones, B.S., M.S., Indiana State; High School Principal

Mr. George Bibich, B.S., Western Kentucky State; M.S., Indiana State;
Supervising Principal

A Smooth Day

Mrs. Jean Wease, B.S., Muskingum College; M.S., Purdue; Girl's Counselor, National Honor Society.

Mr. Glenn Eberly, B.S., Ball State; M.S., Purdue; Boy's Counselor, Lettermen's Club.

Problems, everywhere problems. . . Mrs. Wease and Glenn Eberly take care of the guidance problems while Mrs. Levine eases skin burns, minor cuts, and scratches. Financial reports and secretarial problems are solved by Mrs. Trapp and Mrs. Howell, respectively. These problems, however, seem minor to the students of Dyer Central because of the efficient way in which they are handled by our skilled corp of workers.

Mrs. Cecile Levin, R.N., St. Margaret's School of Nursing; School Nurse, Medical Professions Club.

Mrs. Lela Howell, Business College, types as Mrs. Kay Trapp, Business College, and Comptometer School, read her treasurer's report.

$$\% = \triangle - + \odot \approx \dots$$

Mr. Bill Phillips, B.S., Indiana State; general math, algebra.

Mr. Albert Lawson, B.S., Indiana State; solid and plane geometry, trigonometry, baseball and Freshmen basketball coach, co-sponsor Lettermen's Club, Sophomore class sponsor.

Mr. Kermit Kerns, B.S., Indiana State; M.S., Purdue; algebra, athletic director.

Inspecting the different solid figures are Carol Miller, Steve Adams, John Blaskovich, Ervin Dudek, and Larry Newlin.

Taught by television, this advanced algebra class learns new methods and short cuts. At the board are Turhon Murad, Carol Detchon and Gary Kaiser.

Versatility, preciseness, and the usefulness of math make it a must in everyone's curriculum. From the relationships in triangles to the algebraic mixture problems, all students find math practical. Percentages and fractions may pose problems for some, but after general math, the problems disappear.

Pondering over the equation, Charles Eaton looks at his book, while Brenda Wells completes her problem.

. . Ich Liebe, Amāvi, Habré Querido

Mr. Jonas Kavaliunas, M. A., University of Vilnius, Lithuania; German, Applied mathematics. Miss Ruth Pierce, A.B., St. Mary-of-the-Woods; M.S., Purdue University, Spanish, English, Comet sponsor, Spanish Club. Mr. Louis Iaconetti, B.A., M.A., Indiana State; Latin, Television director, Latin Club, Golf Coach.

Adventure of language lures the Dyer Central student with linguistic interests into a trio of fascinating languages-Latin, German, and Spanish. More sympathetic Spanish - American, East - West, relations could be accomplished through a better understanding of these languages and, all world problems would be seen in new light if the people of the world could understand each other.

One of the numerous projects undertaken by the Latin classes is making unique and novel Latin Christmas cards. Examining some of these cards are: Susan Newland, Diana Davison, Ed Antkowiak, and Dennis Austgen.

Colorful posters brighten the Spanish room with lively expressions and old customs. Joyce Bremer and Carliss Stamper use their talents to create such placards.

Making good use of the modernly equipped language laboratory during German class are Skip Sitowski, Mary Kay Yuknis, Henry Yonker, Judy Hoffman, and Phil Gardner.

Perhaps Randy Ferguson is reporting on Julius Caesar or famous Indiana authors. Carol White sits and listens attentively.

A two-minute or three-minute speech does not seem to bother Bob Cridder as he confidently relates a tale.

Mrs. Janet Crisco, A.B., West Virginia University; Junior A.B., University of Illinois; Speech, Sophomore and Junior B.A., Earlham College; Freshmen English, Drama Club, and Junior English. Mr. Protzman, Ph.B., University of Sophomore English. Mr. Ed Robertson, B.S., M.S., Indiana Coach, Echo Sponsor.

In English We Read,

Waiting eagerly for the next question, Mrs. Crisco's Senior English class mentally reviews last night's cramming.

Write, Speak And Listen

Sophomores Cindy Punak and Larry Myers review the punctuation rules before they attempt to write their weekly theme.

Showing the correct form of a business letter is Diane Ferguson while their Business English classmates look on.

Catching a sneak snooze in Freshmen English class is Charles Atcher.

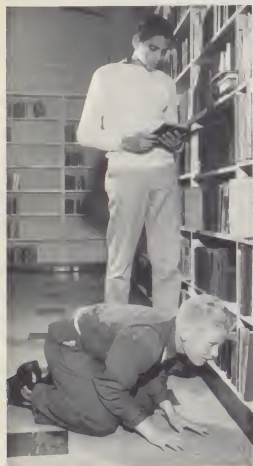

Books For Enjoyment And Information

Miss Kathryn Arbuckle, B.S., M.A.T., Indiana University; librarian, Pep Club sponsor.

Studious Frank Kleine uses the quietude of the library, while Jon Ranta, Karen Reeder, and Dawn Smith search for important information.

"It must be in here somewhere," thinks Bob Heath, while Jon Ranta has already found his quarry.

Student librarians, Martha Malsch and Virginia Schutz, check in books and sort overdue book cards.

Science - Key To Future

Mr. Ted Lucas, B.S., Indiana State, Chemistry and Physics

Mr. Sam Mayhugh, A.B., Olivet College, Biology and General Science

Mr. Ernest Vereb, B.S., Indiana; M. S., University of Wisconsin; Biology and General Science; Senior Class, Science Club.

Gingerly picking up her frog, Lynda Love examines her specimen. Using razor blades for dissecting, Connie Davis, Dave Rajahn, and Ken Stromberger slit the leathery skin.

Measuring the amount of gravity exerted by a certain weight on an inclined plane are Dwight Noble and Tom Burnison. Linda Tussey records data.

Milliliters, cubic centimeters, and centiliters are the measurements used by Marge Postma and Larry Newlin in chemistry class.

Flavorful Cooking

Mrs. Charleen Reusze, B.S., Purdue; home economics, Homemakers Club sponsor.

Feeding a family and balancing a budget may cause worry, but not to our future homemakers. They learn to prepare meals with variety and yet stay within a given budget. Collecting recipes and preparing scrapbooks are other interesting projects. Tailoring garments and selecting qualified patterns are typical problems that are solved by the students.

Freshmen homemakers, Doris Chandler and Suellen Thiel mix and bake a delectable coffee cake.

vs. Artistic Sewing

Tailoring, a Senior subject, is a class that is well used. Adjusting the hem of Pat Skorupa's coat is Mrs. Pluchinsky.

Mrs. Ann Pluchinsky, B.S., Indiana State College of Pa.; home economics.

Coats, coats, coats... Fitting her coat is Bonnie Neitzel. Sewing a seam on the front of her coat is Judy Peck.

Miss Beulah Husted, B.S., State Teachers College, Mo., M.B.A., University of Chicago; business machines, personal typing, general business, Commercial Club sponsor.

Mr. Buren Hooper, B.S., M.S., Indiana State; typing, bookkeeping, business law, sales.

Commercial Courses

Preparing for the business world is the aim of our business department. Speed and accuracy are important factors in both typing and shorthand, while credits and debits are the terms used in bookkeeping class. Deft use of one's fingers yields a perfect paper in business machines class. All the commercial courses offered in our school are aimed at preparing the students for the problems that will be encountered in the business world.

We strive for speed and accuracy. Working away are Janet Boyd, Shirley Hoover, Linda Burton, Beverly Helmer, and Marla Davis.

Learning to manipulate different business machines are Bob Kanelopoulos, Caroline Grummer, Cheryl Jackson, Agnes Koepf, and Pat Stewart.

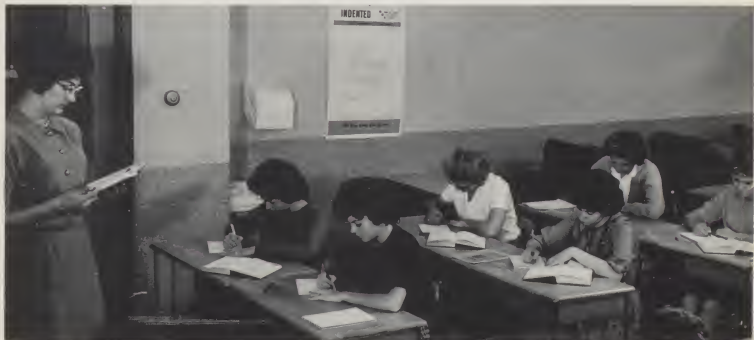

Miss Janet Rogers, B.S., Indiana State; shorthand and typing, sponsor of Sunshine Society, P.T.A. secretary.

.....Guides To Business World

After learning the keyboard, the first year typing class strives for speed and accuracy.

Second year shorthand students utilize shorthand symbols to continually improve their skill and speed.

Mr. John Linley, B.S., Wisconsin State; M.S., Indiana State; mechanical drawing, Industrial Arts Club.

Mr. Leslie Milby, B.S., Eastern Illinois University; machine shop, general shop, general metals, Industrial Arts Club, Wrestling Coach.

Mr. Lester Eggers, B.S., M.S., Indiana State; woodworking, Industrial Arts Club.

Talented Craftsmen . . .

Architect's scales, compasses, and T-squares help these mechanical drawing students. Using such aids are Ron Carter, Bob Burish, Randy Johnson, Art Herrmann.

... Create Masterpieces

From the drawing board to the shop is the route taken by a metal or wood project. Accuracy in cutting or shaping brings forth a better table, hammer, or lamp. Patiently they will file or sand their project to give it a smooth, even finish.

Planing a piece of wood is Bill Hogge while Mr. Eggers watches Reggie Terry square his piece.

Machine shop fascinates both Ray Stout and Stan Edwards as they grind dead centers.

Metal shop students, like Carl Spinozzi and Reggie Terry, drill holes in and file points on tinner's hammerheads.

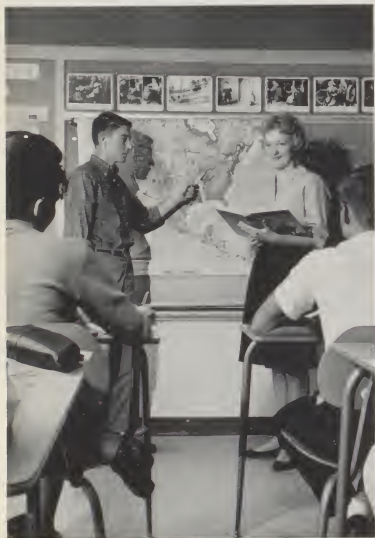

Advanced mechanical drawing classes produce house plans and many detailed drawings similar to the ones being worked on by Bud Darnell and Bob Kelsey.

Mr. Carl Yates, B.S., Indiana University; economics government, assistant varsity line coach.-Mr. Robert Mygrants, B.S., Indiana State; sociology, U.S. History, World Geography, baseball coach.-Mr. John Tennant, A.B., Hanover College; world history, U.S. history, track and assistant football coach.

Learn From The Past . . .

While Marsha Neimeyer relates the important facts of a historical event, Pat Vrable points out the location on the map. Eileen Staniszeski and Danny Stephen listen attentively.

Teaching by television is playing a very important part in our school program, especially in our history department. Cheryl Anderson and Richard Devine listen and watch, engrossed in the lecture of the T.V. world history instructor.

Following true to the form of Dyer Central's academic standards, the social studies department strives to develop the minds of its students in the fields of history, civics, and social living. All seniors learn the importance of having an economic mind and a true knowledge of their country's governmental system. Both world and United States history play an important part in developing a student's store of knowledge. In order for a student to plan for the future, he must know the events of the past.

Pointing out an important fact on how a bill is passed in Congress is Pat Gerlach. Mr. Yates, class instructor, John Blaskovich, and Bob Svast seem to be enjoying Pat's explanation.

...Prepare For The Future

Sociology class sparkles with humor and interesting discussions. Here Bob Redar gives a report to his attentive class.

Debatable subjects always pop up in economics class. Here, an active panel comprised of Russel Hankins, Alan Bush, Don Cathey, Bob Crosariol, Dan Austgen, Brenda Brown, Dan Budak, and Bob Bracken discuss a current economic problem.

Lenora Smith, B.A., Indiana University, Ball State Teachers College, Art Institute, Elementary and High School art, sponsors art club.

Silk screening is an interesting part of the advanced art class. Here Jeff Furman and Chuck Caminito work on their projects.

Art And Driving Both Take Knack

A stickler on safety, Mr. Stokes checks to see that Virginia Payne's safety belt is fastened.

A knowledge of correct driving maneuvers is necessary for all driving students. Here Mr. Stokes explains starting position of a car during a right turn.

Developing the individual's creativity and interest in art is the main objective of all the art classes. Ceramics, painting, three-dimensional Christmas decorations, and posters keep the students and art club members busy all year round.

Learning the position and function of the gauges to practicing parallel parking is the course followed by driving students. Curves, corners, full stops, and backing are transformed from inexperienced to cautious, defensive drivers.

Making clay masks takes a creative touch. Here, Pearl Palmateer and Larry Wilson add final touches to their masks.

Tom Stokes, B.S., Drake University, M.S. Indiana University; Boys Physical Education, Driver education, head football coach

Avid attention is given to Jim Smith by Dwight Noble, Gene Shepler, Phil Thomas, Ken Kelsey, Rich Koepf, Bill Birch, Jim Atwood, and Mr. Hayes as he exhibits a student-made poster.

Audrey Grau, B.S., Ball State Teachers College; Health, Girls physical education, sponsors the G.A.A. Paul Hayes, B.S., Ball State Teachers College; Gen. Business, Boys Health, boys physical education; coach, cross-country, gymnastics, track and intramurals.

Anatomy And Physical Fitness Strongly Stressed

The human body, complicated though it is, is clearly explained by the charts drawn by the girls health class. Here, Marty Blaskovich, Susie Newland, and Sylvia Nowak explain the function of the lungs.

Health and physical education classes go hand-in hand. Both courses are required of all students before they graduate. One not only learns the way his body functions, but how to keep it functioning well. Sportsmanship, co-ordination, and teamwork are stressed in physical education class while proper diet, exercise, development of diseases, and first aid are taught in health class.

Wrong Way Conaway! Here, freshman girls practice one of the many calisthenics that help them keep trim.

Sit-ups! Ugh! The boys physical education class practices sit-ups in perfect unison.

The Band Sounds Off!

Many honors were won including 1st place at the Whiting 4th of July Parade, one of four bands to perform for the Indiana Bandmaster's Clinic at I. U., 1st place and Best Drum-Major Award in the State Band marching Contest, and participation in the "500" Parade Festivities held in Indianapolis.

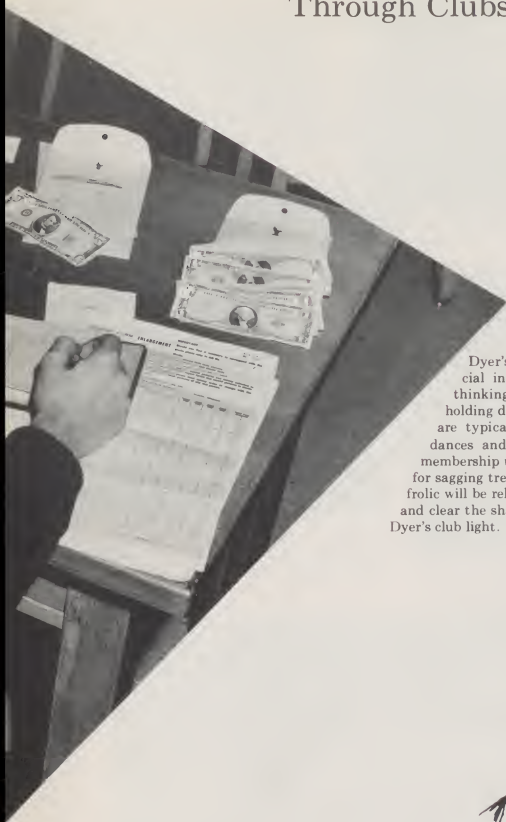

School spirit is displayed as football team scores.

Dyer Central Lights The Way

Through Clubs

Dyer's light shines on its clubs and special interest groups. Planning trips, thinking of money-making schemes, holding dances and scheduling meetings are typical club doings. Candy sales, dances and skating parties promote membership unity and provide money for sagging treasuries. All the fun and frolic will be relived as you leaf through and clear the shadows with the use of Dyer's club light.

Echo

Sports writers, Jim Austgen and Doynce Cole, dictate their copy to typist Ruth Halfman, while circulation man Bob Wells waits his turn.

Layout and copy staffs work hand in hand. Doing their typical every-day work are Julie Ranta, Georgia Thomas, Pauline Govert, Marge Postma, Carol Clemenz, Eileen Thiery, and Glenna De Bruler.

.... Comet

As the monthly deadline rools around, Cometeers write and dummy their newsy copy. Last minute photos and happenings are rearranged to provide an eye-catching front page. Under the veteran leadership of Miss Ruth Pierce, the Comet appears on time, all the time.

Editing reports handed in by reporters are the editors, Caroline Grummer and Steve Adams; an assistant editors, Carol Miller and Janet Grafton.

Sports editors, Dick Mitchell and John Blaskovich, read the sports copy while Diane Govert and Carol Moioff type needed information.

Doing daily assignments are reporters, Glenda Ricketts and Ray Miller; fashion editor, Jo Sizemore; and staff reporters, Mary Stamos and Janice Helderman.

Exchange editor Marilyn Koepf types the addresses as Mike Biedron and Chuck Augenstein, advertising managers watch. Keeping the record is business manager, Bud Darnell.

Chuck Augenstein, Carol Detchon, and Richard Radford examine plants in the school greenhouse.

David Glittenberg receives a grant for his science project on extra corporeal circulation from William Schenck, executive director of the Northwest Indiana Heart Foundation.

The Bi Phi Chem Club, a newly organized science club has set certain aims for their members. They strive to both increase science knowledge and skill and to understand and further science in the school.

Projects Undertaken By Science Club

Sitting: G. Brown, H. Senjac, T. Burton (V-Pres.), P. Palmateer (Pres.), A. Koepl (Sec'y), K. Palm, E. Strader. Standing: C. Schiffbauer, P. Marcinek, J. Palm, J. Bauske, M. Brite, J. Furman, J. Robertson, D. Kleist, M. Bly, C. Caminite, and Mrs. Smith (sponsor).

Self-Expression Through Art

The Art Club is an organization catering to students with special interests and abilities in the field of art. The Art Club sets up special displays for the school and the community and studies outstanding works of great artists.

Carol Schiffbauer, Bob McCullough, Rich Hinrichsen, and Mel Brite view Christmas decorations made in the art classes.

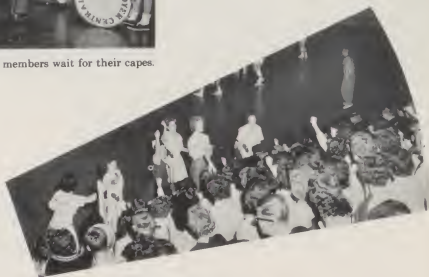

Larry Wilson, Agnes Koepl, Chuck Caminite, and Pearl Palmateer set up Christmas display in the showcase.

Peppy Girls Display Rousing Spirit

The Pep Club is an active organization for all girls who want to support the various athletic teams. Membership is open to all girls from the ninth through twelfth grades. Under the guidance of Miss Kathy Arbuckle and the cheerleaders, the club has expanded to 120 members, performed impressive cheers, and increased school spirit.

While Mr. Jordan sets up the pep band, eager pep club members wait for their capes. With the capes, they form an impressive block.

Adding a tinge of excitement and color to every basketball game as well as supporting the team is an objective well accomplished by the Pep Club.

No other organization at Dyer Central is as active as the lettermen's club. Each year letters are awarded to deserving sophomore, junior, and senior athletes. During each school year, senior lettermen receive their long-awaited jackets.

One of the major events of the year, completely organized by the lettermen's club, is the homecoming dance. The boys work tirelessly decorating the gymnasium to correspond with the other homecoming festivities.

One of the dreams of every underclassman is to one day become a member of the lettermen's club.

Displaying the All-Sports trophy are L. to R. Bob Kelsey, Steve Stephen, Mr. Eberly, Mr. Lawson, and Phil Govert.

Future Homemakers Acquire Seasonal Knowledge

In accordance with the holiday season, the Home Ec. Club sold Christmas wrapping paper, ribbon, and tape. Bonnie Neitzel arranges the Home Ec. display case to advertise the project.

Taking inventory of the stock for the Christmas sale of paper, tape, ribbon, and corsages are Ruth Halfman, Carol Hilbrich, and Diane Ferguson.

Bob Crosariol, Stan Edwards, and John Voyak practice operating a drill press.

One of the greatest honors to be won by a junior or senior student is the election to the National Honor Society. Membership is limited to 10% of the class enrollment and is subject to high restrictions. All members rank high in scholarship, character, leadership, and service to the school.

Here the girls are placing their order for a week's supply of taffy apples.

Election time is here! Who will be the new Student Council members? These familiar words are oft-times heard during the fall election of Student Council members. Membership in this organization is limited to those students who maintain a C average and are elected by their classmates. There are five representatives from each class. The Student Council arranges the assembly programs that take place throughout the school year. They work for the betterment of the entire school through social activities and well-enforced policies.

Sitting: L. Logal, N. Easley, P. Govert (Sec.-treas.), C. Clemenz (Pres.), J. Ruiz (V. Pres.), M. Plese, and S. Fitzpatrick. Standing: R. Kelly, M. Blaskovich, P. Vrabel, P. Govert, D. Cole, L. Newlin, J. Powell, K. Kelsey, R. Austgen, S. Hoover, B. Bucha, and K. Reeder.

Voice Of The Student Body

Inspecting lockers is one of the main duties of the Student Council. Mary Plese, Karen Reeder, Ken Kelsey, Barbara Bucha, and Marty Blaskovich check to make sure that every locker is in top notch condition.

Knowing the responsibilities of the Student Council is essential to all members. Carol Clemenz and Mr. Jones instruct Ron Kelly, Sharon Fitzpatrick, and Linda Logal of their particular duties.

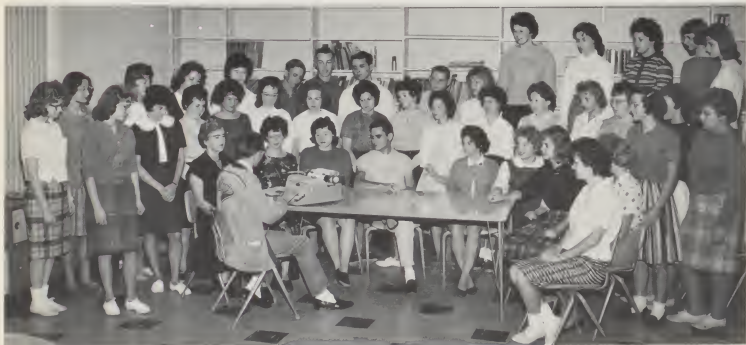

Officers of the Commercial club, Ellen Powell (pres.), Bob Kanelopoulos (v-pres.), Beverly Fisher (sec'y.), and Jim Beccue (treas.), proudly display some of the articles sold in the school bookstore.

The purpose of the Commercial Club is to stimulate interested students to do better work and to enrich the program of the department. The club operates the school book store, buys wanted equipment for the department, has a banquet each spring, and takes an educational trip to a business office, school or bank each year.

Deft fingers of Bernice Shelley, Commercial club member, glide over the keys of the new typewriter bought by the Commercial club.

Future Teachers Gain Experience

The Dyer Central branch of the Future Teachers of America offers an excellent opportunity for interested students to learn of the highlights of teaching. Under the capable guidance of Mrs. Janet Crisco, programs and field trips pertaining to the educational field are carefully planned. Membership is open to all students interested in teaching.

Counting the profits of the evening are Maggie Dust and Walter Deutsch, coat-check operators for the night.

Practicing for the future, these cadet teachers: C. Johnson, J. Helderman, C. Miller, D. Cathey, R. Miller, B. Kelsey, and C. Clemenz enjoy their work.

Semper Laborans

Distributing Thanksgiving baskets, giving away a turkey, and awarding to the Senior who has contributed the most to his class a $100 scholarship payable to the college of his choice, are a few of the service projects that the Latin Club has accomplished. These projects have brought recognition to the club and have spread good will to the town of Dyer and the student body.

Language And Medicine

"Deutscher Studentenverein" strives to further the knowledge and appreciation of German. Several interesting projects are undertaken by the club each year. Although the club is relatively new, it is evident that it has taken its place among the top-ranking clubs of the school.

Rendezvous in Mistletoe House. Enjoying a brief intermission during a wonderful evening of entertainment and fun at the Candy Cane Ball are Dan Butler and Cheryl Duncanson.

Helping others and supplying a form of unity among the members is the chief purpose of the Sunshine Society of Dyer Central. A winter semi-formal, operating the popcorn machine at all home games, and projects to help the needy are only a few of the many activities of the society.

No ball would be complete without a queen and her court; and so it was at the Candy Cane Ball. Shown with their escorts are Jo Sizemore (1st attendant) and Larry Newlin, Paula Henson (Queen) and Barry Sayger, and Cindy Breitzke (2nd attendant) and Doayne Cole.

Pep - Pep - Pep

Through a variety of yells, enthusiasm, and co-operation, the varsity cheerleader have strived to boost school and team spirit. They are from left to right; Pauline Govert, Jean Reder, Loit Toth, and Jo Sizemore, and Eileen Thiery, (capt.).

Cheerleaders build spirit by posting banners throughout the school.

Junior varsity cheerleaders, Alice Peifer, Dayle Toth (capt.), Sharon Fauser, and Pam Krajewski are looking forward to being the varsity cheerleaders of tomorrow. Their combined pep and enthusiasm has been effective in promoting school spirit.

Cheerleaders are selected for pep, personality, leadership, and dependability. They must maintain a C average throughout the school year and be interested in building school spirit. Since all five varsity cheerleaders will graduate this year, the junior varsity cheerleaders will be responsible for boosting spirit in the coming years.

Sparkling the freshman team on to victory are Barbara Hall, Jill Decker, Linda Logal, and Jackie Siebert (capt.).

With a burst of enthusiasm, the varsity cheerleaders soar through the air.

On May 28, 1961, the band participated in the annual "500 Festivities" and received a plaque for their fine showmanship. At left, the band practices on the Butler University campus. Below, the band marches in the "500 parade" through downtown Indianapolis.

Moving camera equipment is a daily routine at Dyer Central. Here, Chuck Augenstein, Larry Mayhew, and Don Cathey move equipment back to the T.V. Aid room.

Pointing out a special feature in this station pattern is Mr. Iaconetti, while Joyce Tarkington attentively watches and Rich Arnold carefully focuses in on the pattern.

With closed circuit and MPATI television, a new look has been added to Dyer Central. Under the skillful guidance of Mr. Louis Iaconetti, students have been trained to operate the equipment necessary for broadcasting. The T.V. schedule includes English, math, science, and art for both grade and high school students. Dyer Central will always be grateful to Mr. Iaconetti and the skilled corp of engineers who made this all possible.

Eager Helpers Learn Office Routine

Enthusiastic senior girls enjoy helping the counselors. Here, Pauline Govert, Mr. Eberly's ass't.; Ruth Halfman, Mrs. Wease's ass't.; and Sandee Hill, Mr. Eberly's ass't.; study the new bulletin board prepared by the counselors.

Also rating assistants, Mrs. Trapp takes special pride in these three helpers: Carol Moisoff, Sandra Halle, and Caroline Grummer.

As Dyer Central grows, the work pile increases for Mrs. Howell, school secretary; Mrs. Trapp, school treasurer; and the counselors. Each year, senior students and some junior students work in the various offices to help relieve some of the tedious, routine work. In so doing, they gain valuable experience in office work and in aiding others in everyday life.

Most impressive is this general office scene showing Jo Sizemore and Mrs. Howell busy at their daily work.

These general office assistants take a load of work off Mrs. Howell's shoulders. They are Paula Henson, Mary Stamos, Carol Hilbrich, Karen Copp, Sharon Grodetz, Sylvia Nowak, and Jo Sizemore.

Dyer Central Lights The Way Through—

Activities

Dyer Central's light falls upon the busy, high school days. Cramming for a test -- drilling for sports activities-- primping for the prom-- breezing along to a dance -- and devising elaborate science projects are activities enjoyed by all. The glow of Dyer's light shines at night, as well as during the day. The creation of a total individual is accomplished by a complete extra-curricular program. Thus the students' glow reflects and enhances the light of Dyer Central.

Football,
The Excitement Of Floats, Suppresses The
And The Dance

The winning float in the Homecoming parade came from the senior home-room of Mr. Stokes. The huge rabbit carried the theme "Hop to it and win!"

Mr. Eberly and his aid ready themselves at the scoreboard as they await the opening kickoff.

Threat Of Dampened Spirits

Queen Cheryl Duncanson and King Dan Butler reigned over the Homecoming of 1961. The court consists of junior candidates, Dick Rakoczy and Dianne Pawlowski; freshman candidates, Ron Austgen and Gayle Greenwell; SENIOR KING AND QUEEN; and sophomore candidates, Pam Krajewski and Ken Link.

Homecoming, at any school, is a momentous occasion. It is no different at Dyer; in fact, Dyer Central's is superior to most. Who can forget working until midnight on gaily-be-decked floats---the dismal rains that dampened the festive air and caused postponement of the parade until Friday evening---the water-logged bonfire---the tense moment as the winning float was announced---the "oohs" and "ahs" of an admiring crowd as they viewed the floats---the fever of victory as Dyer trampled Crete 39-13---and to compensate for all these hectic moments, the enchantment of the Homecoming Dance---these are the things that make Homecoming a memorable experience.

Highlighting the Homecoming Dance was the coronation of seniors Cheryl Duncanson and Dan Butler by Eileen Thierry and Jim Austgen.

Varsity cheerleaders brave the brisk air as they await the arrival of the team.

Night of Nights . . . Orchid Enchantment

Working hard to complete decorations for the gala affair are Caroline Grummer, Diane Ferguson, and Mary Stamos.

Excitement, suspense, and happiness are the emotions of the evening. Arriving at the entrance are Don Cathey and Marge Postma. While Jim Theil helps Marilyn Koepf out of car, Ray Stout and Lois Toth wait to enter the elaborately decorated gym. Arranging Carol Detchon's bracelet is Bob Apple as they prepare for an enjoyable evening. For Janice Young, Mike Biedron, Carol Hilbrich, and Paul Marcinek, the suspense and excitement increase when they behold the dreamy scene in the decorous foyer. Melodious music puts Dee Webb, Al Bush; Gerry Adler and Carl Spinozi in a sentimental mood. The drama unfolds as the grand march, led by Prince and Princess, Gary Kaiser and Georgia Thomas; junior class president, Pat Skorupa, and Bill Rosenwinkel, brings the evening to its climax. Then the big moment finally arrives when Marilyn Redar and Linda Ericks are crowned King and Queen. Happiness prevails at the Night of Nights. . . "Orchid Enchantment."

Juniors Take NEDT Tests

Additional NEDT Winners

Receive Honors

Best Drum Major

Miss Pat Albright received the honor of best drum major at the state band contest held in Lowell on October 14, 1961. Six marching bands participated in this event, with Dyer Central's band receiving a first. Pat was the drum major of Dyer's band in her Junior year.

Football-O-Rama Queen Candidates

Dyer Central Lights The Way Through Athletics

Dyer Central's light shines through its well-developed sports program. Each sport's small lamp increases the beam of the entire sports' glow. In team and individual sports the athletes add brilliance and life to the lamp. Not only healthy bodies but clean wholesome minds are developed by this program. Because of tireless energy, sweat, and imagination, the sports' lamp adds much to the entire light of Dyer Central.

Fast Finish Boosts Team To

Football at Dyer Central is Coach Tom Stokes. Its resurgence began with advent of Coach Stokes on the coaching scene and has continued through three years of his reign, a period that has seen Dyer's football legions emerge with a composite 21-8-1 record. Facing the '61 season with the loss of the majority of his Conference Co-Champs of the previous year, Coach Stokes began the year with a few returning stars and a host of inexperienced, but eager, candidates. Jim Austgen, Ray Stout, Bruce Fane, Larry Jones, Dan Butler, Phil Govert, Bob Svast, and Steve Adams were returning lettermen who were to provide the spark that ignited another fine football season. With these prospects as his ingredients, Coach Stokes, ably assisted by Carl Yates and John Tennant, welded the 1961 team into a proud unit that swept to a 6-3-1 record. It was a team that sometimes played worse than they were, sometimes better than they were, but always well enough to gain the respect and admiration of every football fan who saw them.

The season began with a stunning victory over Portage, 14-6. Portage, a pre-conference champ favorite, came to Dyer with high expectations, but they were deflated by a hard-charging Dyer line and a driving backfield, paced by triple threat Jim Austgen's two T.D.'s. The Indians followed this victory with a terrific first half against Griffith that saw Dyer pile up a 13-0 lead, only to have the lead disappear after a 95 yd. kick off return and a second half touchdown by Griffith that saw the game end in a 13-13 tie.

Jim Austgen bursts through the hoop as a prelude to 39-13 Homecoming triumph, while cheerleaders glow with excitement prior to opening kickoff.

Varsity football team: First Row: D. Hilbrich, D. Rakoczy, M. Clark, N. Easley, G. Fischer, M. Cone, J. Blaskovich, S. Stephen, G. Cashman, J. Ruiz, L. Moriarity, Second Row: Mgr., T. Hlebasko, P. Govert, J. DeMory, J. Hancock, M. Parkinson, B. Svast, D. Butler, J. Austgen, S. Edwards, P. Gardner, R. Stout, Mgr., R. Hankins, Standing: Coach Yates, Coach Stokes, F. Pepkowski, G. Kaiser, L. Robinson, R. Ochs, L. Jones, B. Fane, I. Thornberry, S. Adams, J. Banks, D. Oft, R. Ferguson, Coach Tennant, and Mgr., M. Muenich.

Second Place In Conference

Jones hauls in Austgen's pass while frustrated defender frantically tries to recover.

Dyer's stout defense limits Crete to short gain. The vigorous tackling of D. Rakoczy (27), P. Gardner (33), R. Ochs (41), L. Jones (45), and P. Govert (32), which prevailed throughout the season, ranked Dyer as best defensive team in the Conference.

Indians Present Varied Attack....

Seniors dominate backfield; halfbacks Bob Svast, Jim Austgen, quarterback Ray Stout, fullbacks John Blaskovich and Stan Edwards

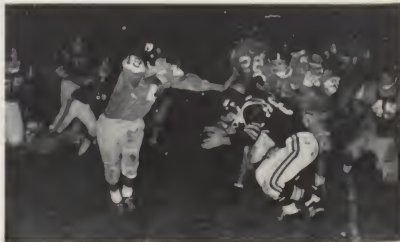

Dyer bench eyes action as trainer Ray Probasco stands ready to care for any injuries.

Dyer Central's highly successful kicking team lines up for practice with Bob Svast centering to Newell Easley as Jim Austgen awaits the snap.

Then began a critical period in Dyer's football fortunes. They were defeated, 21-0, by the new Conference champs, Gary Edison, and they were stung with a 13-0 loss at the hands of a strong T. F. South squad. Faced with the dismal prospects of a losing streak, the Indians rallied brilliantly and repulsed Gary Wirt at Wirt's Homecoming, 9-6, on a 23 yd. field goal by Jim Austgen, a Wirt nemesis, who for the second consecutive year, upended the Troopers by the margin of a field goal. Highland's Trojans, their next opponent, ground out a 24-7 win over the Indians in a game that saw Dyer nursing a 7-6 lead, only to have an errant pass from center recovered by Highland and lead to a deluge of Highland points. Then the Indians caught fire. Against Merrillville, they scored 3 times in the last 6 minutes to thwart the Pirates, 19-7; against Crete-Monee at Homecoming, the Indians exploded for five touchdowns and Crete fell under the onslaught 39-13; and at East Gary the Indians slogged to a 26-0 victory. At this point in the season, the stage was set for a bitter Dyer-Lowell struggle in its most classic tradition. They were both tied for second in the Conference, and the winner would have undisputed second while the loser would drop to a tie for third. Buoyed by the importance of the game and the spirited preliminaries, the Indians smashed their formidable rivals, 28-7, in what was easily Dyer Central's greatest game of the season.

With a stiff straight arm, John Blaskovich wards off a Griffith tackler during the tense battle which ended in a 13-13 tie.

....And Staunch Defense

At the conclusion of the season tailback Jim Austgen and tackle Irvan Thornberry were placed on the All-Conference first team; and Larry Jones on the second unit. As the season is reviewed, the tie with Griffith deprived the Indians of sharing the conference championship with Gary Edison; however the team rose to terrific heights in their victories over Portage, Wirt, and Lowell. Next year the seniors will be sorely missed, but the coaching staff has a group of sturdy linemen returning and several backfield men who promise to continue the winning tradition.

Successful Season Climaxed

Leading ground gainer for Dyer, Jim Austgen (10), breaks into the open field for another substantial gain as Bob Svast (26), Phil Govert (32), and Bruce Fane (31) lead the interference against Griffith.

Displaying the plaque to which their names will be added are All-Conference Irvan Thornberry and Jim Austgen.

All-Conference end Larry Jones

One of the highlights of the season was the selection of Jim Austgen and Irvan Thornberry to the All-Conference team. Austgen, an All-Conference halfback, was a genuine triple-threat as he ran, passed, and kicked for 70 points and accumulated over 1500 yards on total offense. Thornberry, an All-Conference tackle, emerged as the top lineman on the team with his speed, tackling, and blocking. Both boys are a credit to the game and represent two of the finest young men that football can produce. Larry Jones, a burly end, earned a spot on the All-Conference second team with his strong defensive play and his outstanding pass catching.

Indians Show

The 61-62 varsity basketball team was hit hard by graduation. With only two returning lettermen, Doyne Cole, and Dick Mitchell, Coach Robertson was faced with a rebuilding job. The team's lack of experience was evident throughout the season. The Indians revealed fight and determination, but the necessary ingredients for winning were seldom present. The high spot of the year was reached when the team set a gym scoring record of 78 points. Junior Larry Jones was the squad's high scorer with 271 points for a 13.5 points per game average.

Coaches Robertson and Niemeyer survey the 61-62 schedule.

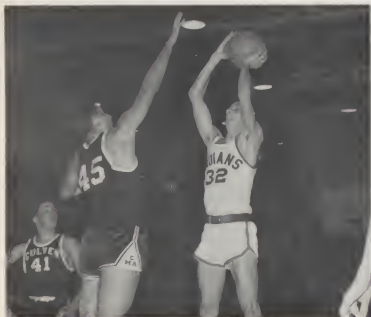

Larry Jones, high scoring forward, leaps high over Culver players for another basket.

Phil Govert, promising junior, lofts up a quick jumper over a towering East Gary forward.

Hustle And Determination

Rich Snearly, tricky pivot man, fires a jumper over a stubborn Culver defender.

Doyle Cole, senior forward, pulls down a rebound amid a flurry of arms from determined Highland players.

Rich Snearly strains for the tip against East Gary's 6'6" Jack Campbell.

Golfer's Rebuild Team

Last year's team, consisting of Marvin Hanson, Newell Easley, Jan Full, and Jerry Curtis, had a full season. The 1961 scorecard showed 30 wins-10 losses. In tournament competition the team did well: Regional, 13th out of 42 teams; Laporte Invitational, 4th of 33 teams; Lake Hills Invitational, 6th of 23 teams. The team finished 2nd in the Calumet Conference. While rebuilding his team, Lou Iaconetti has a rough schedule including such teams as South Bend Adams, South Bend Central, Lafayette Jefferson, Laporte, and many other regional schools.

Thinclads Take Second In Conference Meet

Coach Hayes caught in an amiable mood after placing second in Conference.

Neither rain, nor sleet, nor sore feet can stop the Dyer Central cross-country team from turning in a fine performance.

This year's squad, led by the outstanding running of Junior Joe Britton and Freshmen Tom Delinck, compiled a respectable record of 6 wins and 4 losses. The squad closed the season by finishing a strong second in the Conference meet.

Coach Hayes must be congratulated for his team's fine showing.

Dyer Centrals Baseball Team

All-Conference pitcher Phil Govert follows through as he fires a fast ball toward the plate.

The spring of 1961 presented a real challenge to the Indian baseball squad. They were faced with the necessity of winning as many games as possible in order to continue the Indian's march to the All-Sports Trophy. Dyer Central's fall and winter sports had given the Indians a slim lead in the race for the trophy and the team could not falter in the stretch run. The baseball Indians rose to the occasion and notched four wins in the conference race, and, by a strange twist of fate, these four wins were the only victories the baseballers could muster for the entire campaign. As is usually true of Indian athletic teams, they were toughest when the chips were down. The four wins enabled the baseball team to contribute their share toward winning the All-Sports Trophy. Senior members of the '61 squad who have since departed were Ozzie Kilander, the leading hitter, Jim Campbell, John Render, and Wayne Baker. Coach Bob Mygrants is to be congratulated on his fine conference showing, and also sharing in the plaudits is Lon Lawson, his very capable assistant.

Jim Austgen speeds toward first on hit through infield.

Makes Good Conference Showing

As the baseball forces prepare for the '62 season, coach Bob Mygrants can smile with anticipation. As he surveys his returning lettermen, he sees several key returnees from the '61 squad. Pacing the pitching department are his three top pitchers of '61, Phil Govert, an All-Conference selection; Larry Jones, who is ready for a great year after gaining valuable experience; and Joe Britton, a lean lefthander with a good curveball. On the infield the coach can point to Bob Wells and Rich Devine, returning first basemen; and Pat Vrabel, an infielder with some experience; it is here that Coach Mygrants and his able assistant, Lon Lawson, must find some personnel to handle the left side of the infield. The outfield has Jim Austgen, Dick Rakoczy, and Bob Svast slated to continue their fine work of the previous year and the catching is well-fortified with the entire catching corps back from '61, lead by Bob Crider. Coach Mygrants is well aware of his primary need, finding boys who can man the infield positions and who can deliver the timely hit. With these two problems solved, the baseball Indians could have a very fine season and return Dyer Central to the lofty baseball reputation it once enjoyed in the Calumet region.

Matmen Continue To

Experienced lettermen led Dyer's wrestling team to a fifth place finish in the Conference. Coach Les Milby had a highly competitive team that always came to wrestle. The team was led by Heavyweight Gary Kaiser, who remained undefeated until the final two matches of the season. In the Sectional meet, Bill Hogge qualified for the Regional with a second, but was defeated the following week in the first round. In his third year as wrestling coach, Mr. Milby has done a fine job in building Dyer into a respected team in the area. He also has eight returning lettermen for next year and has high hopes of making a better showing with a more experienced team.

Cinder Men In Action

In the spring a young man's fancy seriously turns to thoughts of track! Spikes flash in the bright spring sun and lean bodies strain in the crisp air, heralding the opening of track season at DCHS.

Coaches John Tennant and Paul Hayes, encouraged by a strong group of returning lettermen, are anticipating a winning season. The Indians, led by Ruiz, Stout, Kelsey, Holmes, and Thornberry, will be striving to improve on last year's 5th. place finish in the Conference Meet.

Gymnastics Team Strives

Strength, agility, timing, and co-ordination are the qualities which go into the making of a fine gymnastics team. This team, the newest addition to our athletic program, is striving for recognition through long hours of hard work and seemingly endless practice. By competing with other schools in exhibitions whenever possible, they are hoping to attain varsity status in the near future.

Dyer Central's light shines on its basic force, its students. The faces and smiles, and old activities are soon recalled. In future years, this light will clear the vague shadows and relight the flame of old friendships. Classmates, competitors, and stars will continue to be brightly illumined as time goes on. For years to come, the light will shine--and remind us of dear "ole" Dyer High.

Ernie's Crew

We, the class of 1962, are very grateful for all the help given to us, above and beyond the call of duty, by our class sponsor, Mr. Vereb. Under his and the officers' leadership we have raised the revenue for and organized the 1961 prom, "ORCHID ENCHANTMENT". We have sold class pins, candy, graduation cards and announcements. From our excess funds we will leave a refreshment stand for the football field to aid the development of dear old Dyer High.

Miss Jean Reder was presented with the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow award on February 14, at a special assembly. The award is given to the senior girl who scored the highest on the test, which was given on December 5, 1961.

Miss Pauline Govert received the Crisco Award at the end of her Junior year for being chosen the best student in home economics. She was chosen for co-operation in the class room and outstanding grades.

Junior Class Officers

The junior class has made its mark on Dyer Central High School. They have continued the fine tradition of presenting Dyer Central with an outstanding prom, one of the social highlights of a student's school life; they have among their class several members distinguished for their scholarship and leadership; and their athletes are among the finest. Among their other activities are taking charge of the cokebar, selling candy at Christmas, and sponsoring dances after the games. With these experiences behind them, they stand on the threshold of their senior year with confidence and determination to succeed.

The efficient and aggressive junior officers have piloted the class through an unusually successful year. They are: Tom Brusch, President; Cindy Breitzke, Vice-president; Marsha Niemeyer, Treasurer; Mr. Edwards, Sponsor; and Dottie Ross, Secretary.

Sophomore Class

Starting the year with a little more rank, the sophomore class shows promise of better things to come. Taking NEDT tests and ordering and receiving their sweaters are some of the highlights of a typical year. Many sophomores brought honor to their class by being presented with NEDT awards. Mr. Lawson has capably directed the sophomores through a memorable year.

Posing in their new sweaters are the sophomore class officers: Diane Czech, Treas.; Pam Krajewski, Sec.; Mr. Lawson, Sponsor; Karen Furman, Pres.; Bob Spinozzi, V-pres.

Freshman Officers Accept

When the freshmen class invaded the halls of Dyer Central High School, we had to stop and step aside. Consisting of 270 students, this year's freshman class is the largest ever to enter this school. By indicating that they already have become an integral part of Dyer Central, the freshmen promise to become one of the school's finest classes.

They have sung the school song, yelled at athletic contests, studied endlessly, learned the intricacies of opening a locker, gone out for clubs, teams, and other activities, and have eagerly participated in all walks of school life.

Dyer Central Lights The Way Through Advertisements

Dyer Central's light leads us to a new life in the business world. Here in the familiar surrounding of Dyer, Routes 41 & 30, St. John, and Schererville we have experienced miniature business problems of finding part-time and summer employment. Now we must hurry and find our place in the sun, before the full radiance has a chance to fade. Then the light will continue after we are settled in our new world, because we will reflect and reproduce some of its guiding rays.

what's their future

The young people you see in these pictures are all on their way to successful careers in one of America's basic industries . . . steel. They decided (as we hope you will decide) to let Inland Steel Company help them plan their future.

Some are gaining knowledge and experience in special trades to become journeyman machinists, carpenters or electricians . . . some are concentrating on certain phases of steelmaking by working in the open hearth shops, the cold rolling mills or the galvanizing lines. Still others are working in laboratories building a sound foundation for a future in steel research.

Inland offers the high school graduate an excellent opportunity to further his education. Employees may participate in a variety of on-the-job training programs, or they can continue their formal education by registering for evening courses offered by local Purdue and Indiana University Extension Centers.

Plan now to investigate the unlimited opportunities for you in steel . . . with the midwest's own steel company . . . INLAND STEEL.
